Life is constantly changing, which is why you need a plan, and a pro-active advisor, that can adapt with your evolving needs and goals.

Troy is a financial planner with over 18 years' experience in the financial services industry. He has been with IG Wealth Management for 6 years. He holds the CFP® and RRC® designations and is currently pursuing the CIM® designation.

As a client-focused professional, his experience has helped him uncover clients' concerns and clearly communicate strategies to address their needs. He believes in building long-term relationships to help you and your family explore all your options and every stage of your life.

Troy is a Family Feud Canada champion (you might remember seeing him on TV). When he's not fine-tuning financial strategies or advocating for inclusivity, you might find him doing cartwheels with his daughters – Malia and Priya – or watching movies at the theater with his wife, Janae.
