

ABOUT ME

Dr. Darrin "Boomer" Williams is an accomplished international speaker, author, former professional athlete, and educator whose career spans sports, business, and education. He is the author of Basketball Secrets: 10 Secrets to Become a Professional Basketball Player, a guide listed as best professional basketball books of all time.

As a standout basketball player, Dr. Williams achieved championship success on the court before transitioning his career to entrepreneurship and education. He founded Ambassy International, a sports marketing agency that has connected athletes with professional opportunities across continents, and created the Pro Athlete Advantage Program to help athletes successfully transition into post-sports careers.

In education, Dr. Williams served as the Human Resources Manager for multiple Michigan school districts, where he lead talent acquisition and international teacher recruitment. His dual doctorates—a DBA in International Business and Finance—underscore his commitment to empowering others through knowledge and leadership.

As a sought-after keynote speaker, Dr. Williams has inspired audiences from K-12 schools to universities, business conferences, and global organizations. His keynotes focus on perseverance, leadership, career development, and the power of leveraging life experiences for long-term success.

With features on NBC, CBS, FOX, Amazon, USA Today, and iHeart Radio, Dr. Williams continues to build a global platform that motivates and empowers individuals and organizations to achieve excellence.
