

FORTUNE 50 OPERATIONS EXECUTIVE | SPEAKER | CONSULTANT

AUDIE PENN

Three decades of building high-performance teams focused on strategic outcomes and producing visionary results for organizations of every size.

Optimizing organizational performance

Operational excellence requires the application of lean principles and the leadership culture to sustain them. Audie's consulting approach successfully combines both elements to create a consistent performance for his former employers and current clients. Oftentimes, the barriers to organizational participation are unintentionally created by the executives themselves. Once this breakdown is realized, new behaviors replace the old and the barriers are removed. From here performance improvement initiatives can be radically successful.

THE DIGNITY OF WORK

When people feel they matter, business problems are no longer a barrier. In this talk backed by 30 years of experience, Audie Penn helps leaders stop doing all the work, for their teams, start communicating what is important, and invite their teams to participate in creating a flourishing organizational community.
