

KEVIN BLACK, MA, MBA

PRINCIPAL & FOUNDER

Kevin has been helping leaders and teams align and improve their performance for over 20 years. After six years of Active Duty Army service, he transitioned to the private sector as a leadership and strategy consultant. Kevin has worked with a variety of clients, from start-ups to Fortune 5, to include LifeLock, Medtronic and McKesson. Overall, he's helped create over $500 million dollars of value.

“My philosophy is that leadership and strategy are interdependent. Most of the time, strategy does not go according to plan. This places a significant burden on leaders on the ground to drive, correct and contribute to their strategy's intended direction. This is why I focus on execution and specifically, developing those ‘in the trenches’: emerging leaders and their teams.”

Kevin's book, Managing Chaos: The Emergent Leader, is scheduled to be published in Spring, 2019. He resides in Scottsdale, Arizona, with his four Australian Cattle Dogs.
