

Biography Of Heather Matuszek

Born on April 2, 1987, in Providence, Rhode Island, Heather Matuszek has navigated a remarkable journey from her northeastern roots to her current role as an Executive Assistant in Florida's bustling construction and design sector. This narrative of professional ascendancy and personal resilience is compelling, illustrating her evolution from a sports enthusiast to a pivotal figure in the construction industry.

Childhood and Educational Background

Heather Matuszek

Shifted to property investment, co-founded cabinet company and consulting firm.

Heather's story begins with her move to Stuart, Florida, in 1996, where she was raised alongside her two sisters. Her childhood was marked by a strong passion for athletics, engaging in sports like ice hockey and baseball throughout her school years. Heather's leadership potential was evident during her time at Martin County High School, where she not only excelled in sports such as softball, powderpuff flag football, and rowing but also served as the class vice president.

College Years and Early Achievements

Heather pursued higher education at Mercer University, earning a Bachelor of Science in Biology with a minor in Leadership and Service in 2005. Her college life was rich with involvement in the Baptist Collegiate Ministries and intramural sports, reflecting her commitment to community and leadership. A notable scholarly achievement was her co-authorship of a research paper in the Journal of Morphology, a testament to her academic excellence. The untimely death of her older sister in a car accident shortly before her graduation profoundly impacted her, influencing her personal and professional decisions.

Professional Beginnings and Community Impact

Heather Matuszek

Graduated Martin County High, 2005.

Upon graduation, Heather returned to Florida, where she worked as a substitute teacher and coached high school sports. Her deep involvement in local ministries showcased her dedication to service and community development.

Advancement in the Quick Service Restaurant Industry

In 2010, Heather transitioned into the Quick Service Restaurant (QSR) sector, where she quickly ascended to managerial roles due to her leadership and operational acumen. In 2013, she took a significant step forward by moving to Largo, Florida, to assume the role of Director of Operations at a QSR. Her ability to manage and oversee operations led to her participation in an Interim Manager program in 2014, enhancing her skills in managing multiple corporate-owned restaurants across the U.S. In 2016, her excellence was recognized with her appointment as Owner/Operator of a QSR in Clearwater, Florida, a role she successfully fulfilled until 2021.

Transition to Real Estate and Entrepreneurial Ventures

Heather Matuszek

Earned BS in Biology with a Leadership minor at Mercer University.

Seeking new challenges, Heather, alongside her partner, ventured into the real estate sector by founding a cabinet design company and Feather Lane Consulting LLC, focusing on restaurant business consulting and property management. This new endeavor not only demonstrated her entrepreneurial spirit but also her adaptability to diversify her career into real estate investment and renovation.

Contributions to the Construction and Design Sector

Currently, Heather is making significant contributions to the construction and design industry. Her role requires comprehensive management of various project phases, from planning and coordination to execution, ensuring projects are delivered on time and within budget. Her leadership skills are crucial in navigating the complex interactions required in construction projects.

Personal Life and Extracurricular Activities

Heather Matuszek

Promoted to QSR Owner/Operator in
Clearwater, FL, 2016-2021.

Outside her professional life, Heather is engaged to her partner of eight years. They share a passion for travel, having visited various countries, including France, Switzerland, and Ireland. Heather also enjoys surfing, playing guitar, and participating in local open mic nights. Moreover, she takes an active interest in renovating properties, a hobby that complements her professional expertise in design and construction.

Philanthropic Endeavors

Heather Matuszek

In 2013, became Director of Operations at a QSR.

Heather's commitment to service has remained strong. Since 2010, she has been sponsoring a child through World Vision. She has been actively involved in mission trips to Haiti with Missionary Flights International and to Mississippi for disaster relief with Mercer University's Baptist Collegiate Ministry.

Heather Matuszek's life story is a testament to the power of enduring personal challenges and thriving in leadership roles. From her early days as a dedicated athlete to her influential position in the construction and design industry, Heather continues to exemplify resilience and a profound commitment to enriching both her community and her industry.