

Biography of Daniel DeNeui

Daniel DeNeui is a dedicated entrepreneur, leader, and mentor with a proven track record in the public and private sectors. His expertise spans multiple disciplines, including business development, strategic planning, marketplace execution, executive coaching, and public speaking. With his deep understanding of human behavior and psychology, he has successfully established several multi-million-dollar businesses from the ground up, relying on limited initial capital. He serves as the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of EVEXIAS Health Solutions®, a leading organization dedicated to advancing medical wellness and transforming healthcare practices.

Transforming Healthcare with EVEXIAS

As CEO of EVEXIAS, Daniel works closely with the co-founder to steer the organization's strategic vision. Together, they aim to revolutionize healthcare by making transformative medicine more accessible. The organization focuses on expanding education, therapies, and business solutions that provide lasting health benefits to patients.

Appointed CEO in 2015, Daniel brings a unique combination of experience in science, business management, sales, and training. This diverse background enables him to oversee a portfolio of innovative brands and therapies, including the EvexiPEL® Method of pellet therapy, PeptideSolutions™, and NutraceuticalSolutions™ with Autoship. In addition to his leadership role at EVEXIAS, he serves as the CEO and Managing Partner of FarmaKeio, a brand specializing in custom compounding, 503B outsourcing, and express pharmaceuticals.

Personalized Wellness Plans

EVEXIAS is dedicated to addressing whole-body health using an integrative and individualized approach. The organization focuses on identifying and treating the underlying causes of health issues rather than merely addressing symptoms. Patients experiencing challenges such as hormone imbalance, hot flashes, anxiety, weight gain, poor sleep, joint pain, or mood swings benefit from personalized wellness plans tailored to their unique needs and lifestyles.

Treatments offered include bioidentical hormone replacement therapy (BHRT), hormone pellet therapy, and advanced nutraceutical supplements. These therapies have been shown to provide significant relief and improve overall health and wellness. Backed by a team of elite medical practitioners, EVEXIAS Health Solutions® is committed to offering transformative care through cutting-edge medical technologies and programs.

Footprint as CEO

During his tenure as CEO, Daniel has guided EVEXIAS through several notable achievements. In 2022, he oversaw the launch of EVEXIAS Online, a groundbreaking platform designed to foster collaboration and education among partner practitioners and their staff. This platform offers access to a comprehensive library of research, educational resources, and opportunities for idea-sharing.

Another significant milestone was the introduction of PeptideSolutions™, which supports education, training, and business solutions for this innovative therapy. In early 2023, the organization hosted its largest-ever training group at its headquarters in Southlake, Texas. This program gave participants an in-depth understanding and hands-on experience in lab review, dosing, and therapy administration.

Additional Career Experience

Before joining EVEXIAS, Daniel held several key leadership positions. He served as the Interim CEO of Asperio Labs, a high-complexity clinical laboratory specializing in DNA interpretation. His prior role as Chief Operating Officer (COO) at BioTE Medical allowed him to contribute to the organization's global leadership in hormone optimization and healthy aging. During his time there, he developed and implemented strategic business growth initiatives and established systems that fostered a transformative corporate culture.

Earlier in his career, he was the National Vice President and co-owner of a company where he developed a national sales distribution channel and enhanced company offerings. Before that, he worked as a Regional Manager, instrumental in recruiting, training, and mentoring sales leaders to drive business growth.

Clemson University

Daniel pursued a degree in organic chemistry at Clemson University, where he laid the foundation for his future endeavors. After college, he advanced through the corporate world, succeeding in national sales leadership roles. A chance encounter during a flight led him to meet the co-founder of EVEXIAS, inspiring him to pivot toward preventive and integrative medicine.

Traveling, Family Time, and Fitness

Daniel enjoys spending quality time with his family and friends outside his professional life. He and the co-founder frequently travel to beach destinations and cherish moments at their home in Colleyville, Texas. He is also passionate about sports, fitness, and playing golf. His commitment to making a difference extends to charitable efforts, including support for Embrace Grace, Victory Church, and an organization advocating for Israel.

Daniel DeNeui continues to drive innovation and excellence in his professional endeavors while maintaining a strong connection to his values and community.
