

Michael Hidalgo

Phone: (303) 257-4295

Email: michael@michael-hidalgo.com

Website: michael-hidalgo.com

As organizations continue to grow, collaboration is more important than ever. This demands each team member understands and uses the positive attributes of their natural strengths, which is their superpower. The problem is most people don't know what their superpower is, or, if they do, how they can use it effectively.

"The Art of Collaboration" will help every team member discover their unique strengths and be empowered to use them effectively. They will understand how they can contribute to shared goals, leading to optimized performance and accelerated growth in their communication, relationships, alignment and execution.

WHAT MY CLIENTS SAY

"We found Michael to be incredibly valuable to our team. He equipped us with tools to think through our work day and to find new ways to improve our effectiveness."

- Dan Westcott, CFO, Canes Midstream

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This session will help leaders and teams understand how to effectively work together. Takeaways include:

1. All teams will achieve greater alignment and synergy.
2. Team leaders will delegate more effectively to increase productivity.
3. Team members will discover their superpower and how to use it.
4. Have a common language to accelerate execution on projects.

REFERENCES

Jordan Fuller, CEO, Humanity & Hope: jordan@humanityandhopeunited.org

Ben Higgins, President, Generous Coffee: ben@generousmovement.com