

DR. STEPHEN PETTERUTI

PHYSICIAN AND THE FOUNDER OF INTELLECTUAL MEDICINE

Dr. Stephen Petteruti is a board-certified physician and the founder of Intellectual Medicine, a cutting-edge clinic focused on prostate health, hormone optimization, and longevity. With over 30 years of clinical experience, he's helped thousands of men take back control of their health—especially when facing elevated PSA levels, prostate cancer decisions, or declining vitality.

Frustrated by the limitations of conventional care, Dr. Petteruti pioneered The Prostate Protocol: a smarter, integrative approach that blends functional medicine, repurposed medications, strategic supplements, and personalized plans to help men avoid overtreatment and maintain peak performance.

He is also the host of the Intellectual Medicine podcast, ranked in the top 10% globally, where he shares bold conversations and evidence-based strategies to empower men to lead stronger, longer lives. A respected educator, he's the founder of Intellectual Medicine University and the author of Fight Cancer Like a Man.

When he's not in the clinic or the studio, Dr. Petteruti is a devoted husband, father, and speaker on a mission to help men take back their power with clarity—not fear.
