From the Bestselling Author of The Servant Leader's Manifesto with 20+ years of global pharmaceutical executive experience comes the most crucial and Leaders who understand that business must be more by creating culture where injustices are eliminated, inequities are eradicated, diversity is expanded, and inclusion is enhanced. These leaders wield the principles of Justice, Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (J.E.D.I.) in order to achieve the true purpose of corporations – increased value for employees, customers, communities, the environment and shareholders.

The Servant Leader's Manifesto

2020

From the author of the breakthrough book on team management and performance, Leader Board: The DNA of High Performance Teams, comes a call to action for leaders to transform in the face of a global employee engagement crisis. Leadership today is outmoded and ill-suited to activate and engage the most diverse work-force in history. This is why leaders capable of inspiring, engaging, aligning, coaching, and coaxing out individual and team brilliance are more in need than ever before. Hence the reason for this manifesto.

Great leaders know how to magnify their collective team talent, align and inspire the group, and set ambitious yet achievable targets.
