*"2003 I was in a sales slump. Sales were 'just okay' but nothing special. I felt I needed motivational and sales training to get back on track so I turned to Dr. John Oda. I had read several of his motivational articles and heard him talk with others so thought he might be the one to help me break through my self imposed wall to sales success. I had no idea how powerful his training was, but it was the best thing I ever done. After just the first session I was able to go out that very afternoon and generate over $20,000 in sales. He is an excellent motivator and knows how to lead you to success. He will take you beyond just reaching minimum goals, and show you how to reach new heights of success.
