Owning Your Seat at the Table

As a women's business coach, I've worked with and studied -how women entrepreneurs run their businesses and what or whom are their biggest distractions pulling them away from their power source... themselves and their seat at the table. I've discovered three common influences that undeniably lead NOT to "Owning Your Seat At The table" AND interesting enough, they are the same trio that influence us in, "Owning Your Seat At The Table".

Owning Your Seat... is a metaphor that symbolizes how women make choices in all areas of our lives. It's our place of vulnerability, trust, power, stability, and of knowing, what we want and how to create it. Purpose of this talk... too many keep getting out of the seats.
