

A renowned Black biracial communicator turned equity speaker, advocate and educational consultant, Michèle Newton is driving inclusion and belonging worldwide.

Michèle's presentation was exactly what we needed. Michèle used her personal and professional experiences and engaging real-world and relevant examples to illustrate her key takeaways.

Cheryn Thoun
Director, Georgian College

michelenewton.ca

Bio

Michèle Newton fuses her bi-racial perspective and Black-lived experience with expertise in communications to empower equitable leadership.

For organizations eager to create an equitable and inclusive workplace culture, Michèle's raw and powerful storytelling draws audiences in and moves them to activate.

Her unique lens as a biracial educator, tenured communicator and passionate entrepreneur adds an impactful element to equity, diversity, inclusion and belonging strategies in need of inspiration and lasting results.

Keynotes

- ★ "Fitting Out" - the Journey to Inclusion
- ★ Activism for Social Change
- ★ The Power of "Better Together"

Workshops/Presentations

- ★ Inclusive Communications
- ★ Anti-Racism - Transforming to Action

Past clients and appearances:

Offerings and rates

1 hour presentation

Overview presentation to set the stage for further anti-racism and inclusion work.

$2,500 - $3,500

Keynote address

Powerful storytelling guiding organizations eager to build inclusion and belonging.

$2,000 - $7,500

Workshop series

Customized anti-racism and inclusion building series for learning organizations.

$7,500 - $15,000

Executive advisory

Individual professional development and advising along a learning journey.

$275 - $550

Workshop series

Nick Manning
Associate Vice-President, Communications

This anti-racism and inclusion training - delivered to our mainly white communication teams - exactly hit the spot of what we needed to continue on our journey way to support the University of Waterloo's efforts to weave anti-racism into the fabric of our institution. Michèle took time to understand our specific needs, was mindful to engage with racialized and Indigenous people on our campus to gain their insights, and delivered content to match that research. In delivery, Michèle hit exactly the right tone for us: at once supportive, challenging and inspiring.

1 hour presentation

Lisa Banks
Vice-President, External Relations

The Inclusive Communications workshop was excellent. Your content and delivery captivated your audience and sparked thoughtful questions and a very informative exchange. You guided us to see things differently, punctuated by your case studies, and inspired several ideas in doing so. This is just the start of the journey - one of that "we can't stop being on."

Keynote address

Gillian Davies
*Director, Organization
Development, Culture & Learning*

Michèle Newton, thank you for sharing such an inspiring story of your journey on Back to Black with our people at Benevity! You gave us such a personal and powerful perspective on being Black, what it means to you, the challenges you overcame and the intersectionality of your experiences. Your journey resonated with so many of us and we received such an overwhelming response of gratitude from our Benevity-ites for the time with you! We would love to have you back again.

*Michèle
newton*

"What we have is diversity. What we need is inclusion. I believe that 'fitting out' is the key."

To book MICHÈLE for your next event
call 705-220-2469 or connect on social media

www.michelenewton.ca
mnewton@michelenewton.ca
705-220-2469
@michele\_newton\_