

MIRIAM SCHULMAN

Artist, Author, Biz Coach

Miriam Schulman is an artist and founder of The Inspiration Place. Through her online classes, business coaching programs, and popular podcast, she's helped thousands of artists around the world develop their skill sets and create more time and freedom to do what they love by teaching them how to go from "so-so" sales to "sold-out" collections.

After witnessing 9/11, she decided to become a full-time working artist. Since then, Miriam and her art have been featured in major publications including Forbes, The New York Times, What Women Create, Art of Man, Professional Artist magazine, and Art Journaling magazine. Her artwork has also been featured on NBC's "Parenthood" and the Amazon series "Hunters" with Al Pacino. Her book with HarperCollins Leadership, Artpreneur: The Step-by-Step Guide to Making a Sustainable Living from Your Creativity was released on January 31, 2023 and continues to grace the top of Amazon charts for art business books. (342 reviews)

When not working in her studio, she splits her time between New York City and a farmhouse in the Catskills.
