

Mollie Campbell

Founder, MC Speaks Up

Public Speaker on Domestic Violence

At the age of 58, Mollie left an 8-year relationship with her abuser and launched head-first into a terrifying journey of domestic violence survival. Today she combines her 30-plus years of experience as a human resources professional and her lived experience with domestic violence to educate and advocate for other victims and survivors – to shine light on the topic of domestic violence and bring it out of the shadows into the light.

Speaking Topics

- When Domestic Violence Comes to Work
- Destigmatizing Domestic Violence
- My Story – “I Left on a Friday”

Testimonials

“Mollie does not approach this topic with a victim mentality; instead, she embodies the strength of a leader carrying the torch for those who have yet to find their voice. If that’s not courage, I don’t know what is.”

--Cam Beaudoin - Founder, The Frequent Speaker

“Mollie is determined to help women see they can land back on their feet no matter their age or economic background. She is brilliant, witty, and full of passion. I highly recommend her for your next speaking event! “

--April Hernandez Castillo – Actor, Speaker, Advocate
