High-Performance Relationship Coach

ABOUT

Railey Molinario is a relationship strategist delivering impactful workshops that help organisations transform how their people connect, communicate, and collaborate. Her Relationship Intelligence™ framework offers a practical structure that promotes employee well-being, boosts leadership performance, and enhances how teams connect internally and with clients, partners, and new opportunities.

These workshops serve clients across the UK, equipping teams with the tools to build trust, manage emotional tension, and strengthen collaborative culture. Each experience is energising, thought-provoking, and designed to create lasting cultural changes in the workplace.
