Dr. Maiysha Clairborne is a Physician, Thought Leader, Consultant, & Neurolinguistic Programming Trainer. Founder of Mind Re-Mapping Co., she helps leaders create psychologically safe and mentally healthy cultures inside of their organizations so that their colleagues and employees will not only feel seen, heard, respected, and valued but that also foster increased productivity, engagement & retention in their organization. Informed by neuroscience and emotional intelligence, she teaches practical tools to help audiences interrupt harmful thoughts, beliefs, and language patterns, and how to be responsible for the impact of their words, actions, and behaviors. Dr. Clairborne is a graduate of Emory University, Morehouse School of Medicine. A 2022 TEDx Asheville Speaker, she is also the co-author of Conscious Anti-Racism.
