

TONY LOPES

Tony Lopes is a first-generation American, CEO of Dirty Boots Capital, real estate professional, bestselling author, coach, and speaker. He earned a BS in Mechanical Engineering and an MBA from UMass. He worked in the defense industry for 19 years managing multi-million dollar programs while simultaneously building a portfolio of residential income properties. His investments, coupled with his understanding of markets and economics allowed him to retire at age 44. What really drives Tony is sharing his knowledge and experience so that others can achieve financial independence and enjoy the same level of freedom he does.

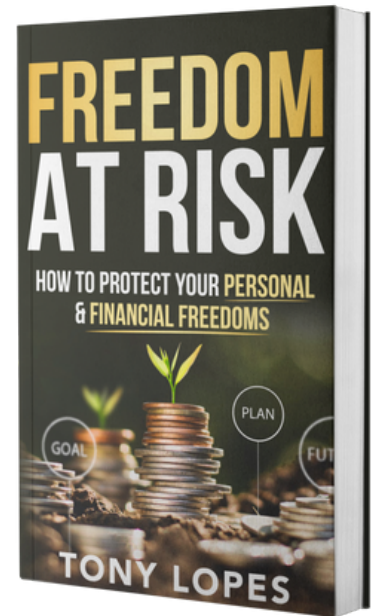

INSPIRATIONAL SPEAKER • BEST-SELLING AUTHOR • REAL ESTATE INVESTOR

“I brought him in based on his knowledge and experience, but his passion, charisma, and ability to connect with young people made him stand out. Tony and his team are professionals who are fantastic to work with, and I plan to utilize Tony again for our conferences in the future
