TOPICS

Veronica's central topic is inclusive leadership. She uses her personal and professional expertise across different industries to inspire individuals and organizations to work more inclusively, from how they think to how they behave and collaborate. As an amateur triathlete, she incorporates elements of sports in her bespoke content to promote well-being.

VERONICA LLORCA-SMITH

INCLUSIVE LEADERSHIP

---

Veronica has delivered public speeches and workshops to corporates, Chambers of Commerce and the EU Office in Hong Kong on the topic of inclusive leadership. Her content aims to raise awareness of DEI fundamentals, promote education and inspire action and advocacy.

CULTURAL AGILITY

Having lived in 9 countries and worked with teams across 4 continents, Veronica is passionate about cultural agility and leading teams effectively through inclusion. Her region of expertise is Asia, and she brings learnings from her corporate career at Apple and storytelling. Her sessions cover cultural mapping, cultural competences as well as specific behaviours.

GROWTH & AGILE MINDSET

Veronica has given multiple presentations to corporates on the topic of growth mindset and has spoken at multiple shows on developing mental agility. Her bestseller book, The Lemon Tree Mindset is based on her career reinvention, applying a growth and abundance mindset.

As an Ironman, she incorporates elements of sports psychology into her keynotes to empower her audience with mental and physical resilience.

INCLUSIVE LANGUAGE

As a polyglot, Veronica is passionate about languages and communication. Speaking an inclusive language is a must to create an inclusive organization and culture. She emphasizes the guiding principles of neutrality, accuracy, relevance, and context with clear examples and case studies relevant to the Region.
