

Meet Dr. Michael J. Baglino, Ed.D.

Dr. Baglino is a retired college professor, most recently an adjunct professor in behavioral science at Palm Beach State College, Florida. He is a graduate of both Winona State University, MN, and Florida International University, Miami. Michael is also a retired entertainer [singer/actor], performing primarily as a Frank Sinatra tribute artist under the name 'Michael Matone.' The author of 5 books, he is a professional member of the Society of Catholic Social Scientists and a regular contributor to www.Catholic365.com and www.catholicjournal.us. The Baglino family, wife and children, all live in South Florida. See www.michaelbaglino.com

Speaking Topics:

- '6 Characteristics of a Good Husband'
- '6 Anti-Christian Philosophers Who Ruined America'
- '6 Lessons from 6 Adult Students'
- '3 Christian Leaders and Maturity in Service'
- 'Facts on Music: Psychology, Science, and the Bible'
[with audience participation]

Testimonial: "Mr. Baglino always presented himself as a devoted father and husband, conscientious in his family and parish duties, and worthy of every trust. As a parish lector, Mr. Baglino's talents and skills are unmatched." Rev. Seamus Doyle, Pastor - St. Rose of Lima Catholic Church, Miami

Contact: 561 812 2746 or Euroamerican22@gmail.com
www.michaelbaglino.com