Testimonials

Courtney is a dynamic and engaging speaker who captivated the room from the moment she began. Her energy, authenticity, and actionable insights left a lasting impression on everyone in attendance.

-Sadie Kolves

National Director, Melaleuca

You could feel the motivation in the room shift as she encouraged us to embrace opportunity and growth. Our team walked away feeling empowered and re-energized. We would welcome Courtney back in a heartbeat! -

Program Description

I have discovered in my 18+ years of working with sales professionals, entrepreneurs and business leaders that the vast majority of us want to be living up to our highest potential, but most of us end up settling for "good" out of fear of the unknown. I teach you how to get out of your comfort zone, seek opportunity and get to the pinnacle of success personally and professionally by utilizing mindset practices and neurological techniques scientifically proven to rewire your cognitive framework. This results in a transformation of your thoughts, actions and behaviors to align with success.
