

CONNECTING MORE EFFECTIVELY FOR BUSINESS GROWTH

Increase Sales Through Connection

Steve is passionate about speaking and has a pretty unique story. He has overcome quite a lot of obstacles. He grew up shy, introverted, picked on, bullied, learning disabled, dyslexic. Regardless, he went on to get two different black belts which contributed a strong work ethic, a never-quit attitude, discipline, integrity and fearlessness. Even though he couldn't get a job when he graduated, he started his own advertising company right out of college. He eventually pivoted into technology and then consulting. Today Steve still considers himself as shy and introverted, he is now referred to as the Master Connector with over 30,000 LinkedIn connections. He does a weekly Live Broadcast called the Master Connector Show. Besides being a published author, Steve is most excited to be on stages around the world, as an inspirational keynote speaker. He loves to share how to really connect effectively and to inspire people to get out of their comfort zone.

Let's connect to see how we can work together to really add value to your organization.
