About

Stephanie Trager is a speaker, author, futurist, coach, lawyer, strategist, and consciousness researcher, bridging ancient intelligence with modern wisdom to activate human potential.

A former practicing attorney with a background in human rights, environmental justice, and corporate litigation, plus decades as an initiate on the shamanic path, she weaves multidimensional expertise in support of evolutionary change in individuals, organizations, and our world.

Her dynamic speaking style combines 35+ years of off the beaten path experience and an eclectic mix of training, shamanic initiations, education, leadership, and frontline activism. Using the power of her captivating story and decades of facilitating transformation through her unique modalities, Stephanie inspires, teaches and motivates, delivering compelling and relatable presentations and keynotes for the impact eco-system and beyond.

For more than two decades Stephanie has been coaching and speaking on physical vitality, mental freedom, emotional peace, aligned business, conscious communication, and spiritual expansion in service to her clients, and – the evolution of humanity. As we evolve, the world evolves.

"Never before have I experienced such spiritual presence and worldly brilliance combined in one lovely person on that stage." K.W. Financial Services
