Culture & Diversity Keynote Speaker

Georgia's 40 Under 40: Best and the Brightest

- Georgia Trend Magazine, Georgia State University

Biography

Sucheta Rawal is a travel expert with a mission to raise awareness about culture and diversity. She previously worked in investment banking, market research, and human capital consulting. However, after seeing the fear, discrimination, and hate that stems from people divided by race, politics, and religion, Sucheta pivoted her career towards building a more harmonious world. Drawing from her own travels to over 100 countries across 7 continents, she teaches businesses how to improve multicultural communication and increase productivity with diverse teams.

Sucheta founded Go Eat Give, a nonprofit that promotes cross-cultural peace and respect through sustainable travel, food and volunteerism. She has also authored 'Beato Goes To', a series of children's illustrated books on travel that inspire young readers to learn about different countries and cultures.

Topics

Sucheta's areas of expertise include international culture, diversity and inclusion, sustainable travel and citizen diplomacy.

With 15+ years of experience in the industry, she has spoken at various consulates, women's groups, schools, universities, and the following organizations:
