About Wesley

A U.S. Air Force veteran and author of The Blueprint of Becoming, Wesley Farnsworth brings a rare blend of military discipline, creative mastery, and faith-driven purpose to every stage. Drawing from sixteen years of professional experience photographing presidents, war zones, and world-class sporting events, and years in ministry and education, Wesley connects with audiences through honesty, humor, and hope.

As the author of The Blueprint of Becoming: A Practical Guide to Faith, Failure, and Finding Your Way Forward, Wesley helps individuals and organizations confront their past, embrace growth, and step into their God-given potential. His story, challenges audiences to see that change is not only possible, but promised when faith meets action.

Wesley brings both depth and practicality to his talks, merging professional expertise with real-world testimony. Whether speaking in churches, conferences, or corporate settings, he offers audiences a grounded yet inspiring path forward.

Invite Wesley to your next event to inspire hope, ignite faith, and encourage lasting change.

Executive Church Chairman

Speaking Topics

The Blueprint of Becoming – Based on my book, this talk explores how faith, discipline, and surrender can transform failure into purpose.

Unqualified But Called – We often disqualify ourselves because of what we’ve done or what we lack.

Freedom, Not Perfection – This message challenges the idea that faith equals flawlessness and encourages listeners to pursue freedom through grace, accountability, and community.

Leading from Your Wounds – I share how God uses our broken places to connect with and lead others, turning pain into purpose.

Moving Forward in Faith – We look at how you can learn to trust God and move forward in Faith, even when your flesh and the world tell you not to.

Why Audiences Connect

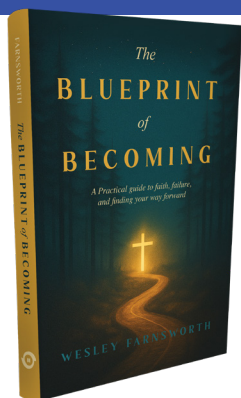

Authentic, vulnerable storytelling rooted in real-life experience and biblical truth.

Proven ability to engage diverse audiences — from veterans to church leaders to creative professionals.

Integrates faith, leadership, and communication in a way that resonates with both hearts and minds.

Delivers visually dynamic presentations drawn from years as a professional photographer and designer.

Leaves audiences with clear, actionable steps for personal and spiritual growth.
