

Why companies love GP van Rheede van Oudtshoorn as a motivational speaker and business specialist:

1

Customised Topics

Every motivational endeavour is personally crafted to suit each company's unique industry and its desired outcomes.

2

Positive Energy

GP brings positive energy to any audience. He does market research to get to know the audience and blends his rich experience and credibility with an engaging, humour-style approach to keep the audience entertained and empowered.

3

Qualified & Experienced

GP is a Corporate Communication and Marketing Specialist that has trained diverse audiences in more than 10 countries. He has a proven record of excellence in teaching and training communication and marketing-related courses at Damelin College, CUT, UFS, TUKS, and the NWU. He is also a well-known author and co-author of journals, published books and papers. GP is on the board of directors at various companies, focusing on strategic direction, marketing and communication.

4

Professional

GP firmly believes that communication works for those who work at it. Throughout the process, he takes communication and feedback very seriously to reach the event's objectives.

5

Versatile & Adaptable

Every motivational endeavour is personally crafted to suit each company's unique industry and its desired outcomes.

6

Devoted

GP believes in the contagious significance of your success. He has a clear focus on strategy and pragmatic action. GP is always open for Q&A sessions and will utilise his marketing team to help promote your event.