Bio

I started having severe and lengthy depressive episodes when I was 15 years old. At first I was told I was just a normal teenager. As it persisted, the journey of constantly trying new medications with no results began. Through all of this I managed to complete post secondary education and begin a career in HR. As I got more involved in accommodations I saw many individuals dealing with mental health concerns.

20 Year HR Professional in various industries who lives with Bipolar Disorder and ADHD. This gives me a unique perspective from both the business and staff member side of the situation.
