RADIANCE W. HARRIS, ESQ.

Radiance W. Harris is an award-winning brand attorney, highly sought-after speaker, and published writer. She has been recognized as a thought leader in her field and the legal community as a whole. Her accolades include Prince George's County Forty Under 40 (2017), Washington, D.C. Rising Stars for Intellectual Property by Super Lawyers (2013 - 2017), Maryland Rising Stars for Intellectual Property by Super Lawyers (2017), and Nation's Best Advocates: 40 Lawyers Under 40 by the National Bar Association (2013).

BRAND ATTORNEY

Radiance is the founder and managing attorney of Radiance IP Law, an exclusively flat fee law firm. For almost a decade, she has successfully represented start ups and multi-national corporations across diverse industries in the areas of trademark law, copyright law, advertising law, licensing, and business contracts. Prior to starting her own law firm, she worked as an attorney at a major global law firm representing Fortune 200 companies for many years.

WRITER

Recognized as a thought leader in her field, Radiance has written and published numerous articles on intellectual property law, branding, and social media topics in a wide range of publications, including Intellectual Property Magazine, ABA Landslide Magazine, and Corporate Counsel Magazine, among others. She has also been featured as a legal expert in Forbes BrandVoice and FitSmallBusiness.com.

SPEAKER

Radiance uses her highly specialized knowledge and expertise to provide expert insight into legal topics in a relatable and engaging manner. She knows how to simplify complex legal topics and present them in a way that is understandable to "non-legal minds" and practical. She has presented at the National Bar Association Annual Convention, International Trademark Association Annual Meeting, and CPN Conference, to name a few.
